What: Abiding Homeschooler's 4th Annual GEOGRAPHY FAIR

When: Tuesday, February 24, 2009 at 2:00 pm

Where: Calvary Chapel Aurora

★The Geography Fair is a time for our children to show some of things they've been learning about God's world. Pick a country, state or ethnic group and research it. Fill a project board (sold at most craft stores) with pictures of your country/state, the flag, a map, etc.

★You may also dress up like the people of the land, bring food samples of your culture, and/or bring games they play, to present the culture to the audience. Please clearly mark food with (1) name of child, (2) geographical location, (3) food name, and (4) ingredients (for those that have food allergies).

★Each child may do one project, or you may do one as a family. Each presentation (whether done individually or with a sibling) will have up to 5 minutes to present their geography fair project to an audience. PLEASE practice with a timer.

★Each child will receive their own passport booklet (siblings not presenting will also receive a passport) for "traveling the globe" and a Certificate of Participation.

★Please bring a stamp and pad (or) 85 stickers (or) 85 little printed labels, representing your place of research (these will be placed in everyone's passport as they visit your board).

★Please arrive no later than 1:45pm to set up. Late check-ins will not be able to participate.
